ACTION ON PEACE TREATY AGAIN IN DOUBT

Senator Hitchcock Thinks Agreement May Yet Be Reached

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 27.—The fate of compromise negotiations on the peace treaty remained in doubt today after the bipartisan conference had discussed without decision the refusal of the republicans to compromise on Article 10. Another meeting will be held on Thursday. Democratic leaders replying to the republican ultimatum regarding Article 10 did not present a definite refusal to go with the negotiations but expressed great surprise declaring an Article 10 compromise "already had been assented to by most of the members of the conference" before the republicans served notice they would not agree to a compromise. Under the proposed compromise as made public by Senator Hitchcock, the acting democratic leader, the senate would declare by reservation that the United States would not employ the economic boycott or its armed forces to preserve the territorial integrity of any of her country unless congress acted in each specific case. After the meeting which developed some heated discussion, some senators on both sides professed to see hope that a compromise might yet be reached. The general attitude of the conference however, was not one of optimism.

FEW MILD CASES IN THIS CITY

While influenza cases in the large cities seem to be increasing, Portsmouth, so far, has no reason to be alarmed. Several local cases have been reported to Dr. Fredrick at the office of the board of health but these are of very mild type and there is little danger of an epidemic in this city. However, it is well for all to take precautions to avoid the disease and the following rules are well to observe:
"Avoid people who cough and sneeze, do not visit persons sick with colds; dress warmly; wash your hands before eating; avoid crowded places; take daily exercise—walk to work; sleep with your window open; avoid worry and excesses; avoid common drinking cups and towels."
Get plenty of rest in bed; have fresh air in your room; eat meat regularly and do not curtail on quantity; keep the general standard of your health up to par.

RUSSIAN REDS HAIL REDS WE DEPORTED

London, Jan. 26.—A Moscow wireless dispatch, describing the reception tendered the 219 radicals deported from the United States as undesirable aliens and brought to Hango, Finland, on the United States Army transport Buford, says:

"Our comrades were greeted by the Red army's shouts of hurrah and music playing the 'Internationale' while red flags waved over the frontier stream. Systematic, the shores of which were lined with Red rifles facing a mass of Finnish enemy soldiers on the other bank. With a band and standard twenty paces from the enemy guard of honor, the Red army triumphantly greeted its comrades from across the ocean."

He said that he resented his unwarranted allegations and intend to prove the charges that have been made.

NEARLY ALL CASES FOR DEPORTATION

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Jan. 26.—Approximately 3000 out of the 3600 aliens taken in the nation-wide raids for radicals, are perfect cases for deportation as a result of the ruling of Secretary Wilson that the communist party and communist labor parties are revolutionary and subject for deportation. J. V. Hoover special assistant to Attorney General Palmer in these cases said that such cases are perfect where the Federal agents have only to produce the membership cards of the aliens in either of the two organizations.

If Thin and Nervous Try Bitro-Phosphate

While excessive nervousness might be attributed to a weak and unsteady system, it is a fact that the lack of phosphorus in the human system is a very largely responsible factor for it.

It is known to all that the body is composed of cells, and that the cells are the units of life. The cells are made up of a nucleus and a protoplasm. The nucleus is the center of the cell and contains the chromosomes. The protoplasm is the substance that fills the cell and is made up of a variety of chemical elements. The most important of these elements are carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, and nitrogen. These elements are combined in such a way as to form the cells of the body. The cells are the units of life and are responsible for all the functions of the body. If the cells are weak and unsteady, the body will be thin and nervous. Bitro-Phosphate is a powerful stimulant and is known to be the most effective remedy for this condition. It is made up of bitartrate of potassium and phosphate of sodium. ITALIAN ADMITS HE KILLED CLANCY

Boston, Jan. 26.—Joseph Sammarco, a twenty-two-year-old Italian, who lives at 7 Cross street, East Boston, this afternoon admitted that he fired the shot which killed patrolman William C. Clancy in Roughton Hall, Charlestown, a few nights ago.

Although admitting the killing, Sammarco claims that it was accidental and says that instead of intending to shoot Clancy, he merely was trying to fire a bullet into one of the legs of a man named Antonio Di Franco, who was with Clancy in the hall. The bullet went wild, he said, and hit Clancy in the chest.

Sammarco made his confession to Captain Ansel C. Armstrong of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation at police headquarters.

He said further that he fired at Di Franco because of a remark that the latter made while Clancy was trying to keep order. Di Franco was in citizen's clothes.

Demagogues and Groups.

Congressman Frank L. Greene of Vermont has some sensible ideas which were presented in an address at Brattleboro a few days ago before a meeting of the Board of Trade. The meeting was largely attended and the speaker was heard with exceptional interest, owing to the disturbed conditions of the times and Mr. Greene's ideas as to the best method of meeting the dangerous growth of radicalism.

His theme was "The growth of radicalism in the United States," and he convinced his hearers that the duty of a congressman is not so much to inflame the already overheated atmosphere by loud talk as to think hard and vote right when the time comes. Mr. Greene said he is not so much afraid of the radical who talks feverishly about his "cause" as he is of the man who compromises and "pussyfoots" and hands the beast a piece of meat by saying, "If we don't do something in the way of liberal legislation we shall have an insurrection."

There are many who are convinced that there has been too much compromising with elements that have threatened trouble of one kind or another. One result is that groups seeking their own interests rather than those of the country have become emboldened and have made demands that were beyond all reason, relying upon the fear of legislators to force unwarranted action for the purpose of avoiding trouble.

So far as this has been done, it is a course that should be discontinued forthwith. This country cannot afford to entertain fear of groups of any name or nature or to admit the presence of such a fear. The government was instituted and is supposed to be conducted in the interests of all the people, and when it yields to the unjust demands of any class of citizens it jeopardizes the welfare of the great majority, which it is in duty bound to uphold and maintain.

Politics, in the cheapest sense of the term, is responsible for the compromising and "pussyfooting" of which the Vermont congressman complains and of which the same portion of the public is thoroughly tired.

It is time to sidetrack demagoguery and the demagogues of all parties, for no party has a monopoly of these hindrances to straightforward legislation. Groups of all kinds and calibers should be taught that their interests are not to be placed above those of the people, and in no case should their clamors be silenced by what is little better than bribery. Yielding wholly or in part to unreasonable demands is sometimes the easiest way out of an embarrassing position for the time being, but the plague is sure to return, and in the long run compromising and "pussyfooting" prove a losing game.

It would be much better if all legislators would, as Congressman Greene suggests, "think hard and vote right when the time comes." This course would produce more satisfactory results than loud talk and compromising performances, and group interests would soon come to understand that direct or indirect threats of insurrection and industrial chaos were not only unavailing, but positively dangerous to those making them.

It is said a flying squadron will be organized to patrol the Canadian border and prevent the smuggling of liquors into the United States. According to the report this city will be one of the divisional headquarters and others will be established at Bangor, Me., Burlington, Vt., and Albany and Buffalo, N. Y. To keep the country "bone dry" is going to be no small task, but when all the machinery is in motion it will undoubtedly be kept much dryer than it ever was before.

The Ukrainian Mission in America states that four hundred million pounds of sugar, twenty million bushels of wheat and great quantities of hides and other commodities in the Ukraine will be liberated to the markets of the world as soon as the blockade of Russia is lifted. Must Russian "propaganda" now be added to the long list?

There is no denying the fact that a popular wave is sweeping over the country in favor of Herbert Hoover for President. He says he is a Republican, while the Democrats insist upon trying to kidnap him. The New York World names him as the Democratic nominee.

Bookings of hotel accommodations at Dartmouth for the Winter Carnival, to be held next month indicate great interest in the event, and a very large attendance is anticipated. An excellent program has been arranged and the visitors will be well entertained.

The Prince of Wales says he hopes to make another visit to the United States. But he will probably be married before he comes again, and that will be liable to lessen the enthusiasm in certain circles of "Young America."

Hon. F. W. Estabrook of Nashua is a candidate for delegate at large to the Republican National Convention. Mr. Estabrook is one of the most prominent men in the party and should win without any trouble.

Some public libraries are throwing out books that contain any information on the subject of manufacturing stimulating drinks. It seems impossible for this country to take any important step without a spasm of hysteria.

ROBERT JACKSON FINDS HOOVER IS LOGICAL CHOICE

Returns From Extended Capitol Visit With Statement of His Observations.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 27.—Robert Jackson, who holds the distinction of having been the first convention delegate in the United States to pledge himself to Herbert Hoover, for president, believes that Mr. Hoover is the strongest possible candidate for the highest honors of the land, and backs his statement by facts and voted convictions, gained after several long weeks of observation in the national capital and the larger cities of the east.

Mr. Jackson returned to Concord Sunday night from Washington, where he has been since the Jackson day dinner. During that period he has heard out various men and factions on the question of Hoover for president. And he finds that in the national capital, as well as in many other communities, there is a real conviction that Herbert Hoover is the one logical candidate for the presidency, a view he states, which is not confined alone to democrats.

"Hoover is the strongest possible candidate," said Mr. Jackson in a Dartmouth representative last night, "and that conviction is growing daily. All northern democrats realize his strength and they intend to put him over."

"And not only in the east in his popularity growing. I spoke of the east because I have personally sought opinions of leading men in the east. But reports are coming from the west and other parts of the country that democrats are swinging into line for Hoover, realizing that he is the one strong candidate who can insure success. It is surprising idea, to find republicans of no mean standing coming out flatfootedly with the statement that even if Mr. Hoover is a democrat they intend to vote for him—simply for the reason that he represents the executive and forceful type of man that the country is looking for."

"While the extensive and resultant activities of Mr. Hoover in this country during the war are well known by practically every man and woman in the land only a comparatively small percentage knows of the magnitude of the task in Europe, in the early days of the war when Americans at home were giving but scant attention to news dispatches from battle torn Europe, Mr. Hoover, with his capable and big hearted wife, was working incessantly to lessen the ravages of war among the innocent sufferers—the families of the men at the front. Working practically alone he built up a system—delving deeply into his personal funds to do so—that accomplished an unreckoned amount of good for the allied cause."

"It has been said by men whose statements are not given or accepted lightly that General Esch could not have done what he did, if it hadn't been for Herbert Hoover."

"His worth is now being recognized. He is not seeking office. Rather he does not care to enter a campaign. Yet, his patriotism has been tried and not found wanting, and so it is typical of him when he says that if the people want him he will serve them. The people do want him, as is being shown and Hoover sentiment is growing daily."

Mrs. Robert Jackson, national committee woman from New Hampshire is laboring hard in the task of organization and believes that a surprising vote will be cast by the women of the state.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Comments Herald Editorial

The fair and sane editorial which recently appeared in this column of your paper regarding spiritualism should find approval in the minds of all thinking people. Not only the early Christians but those who adhered to all ancient religions firmly believed in communication with those who had passed from this life by friends still in this world was probable and actual. It is only with the advance of materialism and agnosticism on one hand, and the establishment of new sects denying immortality on the other, in the past hundred years, that the belief of life beyond the grave has fallen into disrepute. Sir Oliver Lodge in a recent address at Springfield, Mass., declared it was not his purpose to found a new religion but simply to discuss the scientific aspects of spiritualism, and to prove the truth of events recorded in the scriptures, which seem to some to be miraculous or even impossible. All through the late war relatives of those fallen in battle have received psychic messages from those departing this life before ordinary means of communication had taken place. There has always been such instances but they were especially noticeable when so many men were fully passing the border line. Many thousands of separate individual experiences in which clairvoyants and mediums played no part, prove beyond the possibility of a doubt that life is endless and our friends who have passed the border line are conscious of what takes place here. Such thoughts have been of consolation and comfort to countless thousands with all ages of faith being unmoved by criticism or fanaticism. The belief in spiritualism is constantly gaining among people who think, and causing more to be interested in this deep subject in every year that passes.

FOR DELEGATE AT LARGE

Republican National Convention

Hon. Fred W. Estabrook

of Nashua

It has been the unbroken custom of years to divide the delegates at large to Republican National conventions equally between the two congressional districts, two from each district.

Only two candidates for delegates at large from the second district have been suggested, and those candidates are Senator Henry W. Keyes and Mr. Fred W. Estabrook.

While favoring the nomination of General Leonard Wood, Mr. Estabrook believes that it is more important than ever that New Hampshire's custom of sending an unpledged delegation should be followed.

Mr. Estabrook's service on the National Committee and as a member of the Executive Committee through the campaigns of 1912 and 1916 has given him a wide acquaintance all over the country, and as a delegate to the National Convention from New Hampshire this national acquaintance would be most serviceable to our state and to the convention.

If the Republicans of New Hampshire desire the selection of an unpledged delegation, as I believe they do, the Second Congressional district cannot have more influential delegates at large than Senator Keyes and Mr. Estabrook. Both are known throughout the country and their judgment would carry great weight in bringing about the nomination of the candidate and formulating the platform which best would promote the interest and insure the success of the Republican party.

GOMPERS, AT 70, FACES NEW BATTLE

Cigarmakers Reject Veteran Labor Chief as Delegate.

New York, Jan. 26.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor will be seventy years old tomorrow and at that advanced age faces one of the hardest battles of his life, not only for his survival as the leader of labor in this country, but for the defense of the federation against attacks by radicals from within and without the organization.

Another indication of the growing opposition to Mr. Gompers as a labor leader because of the belief that he was too conservative to grasp all the advantages that labor might have was seen today by labor men in the announcement that local 144 of the Cigar Makers International Union had rejected him as one of the delegates to be sent to their convention.

"The little fellow is one of the most enthusiastic lovers of the sport and every day is out with his skis in the big field near his home and can compete with others much older. One look at the little fellow with his rosy cheeks would convince anyone that he is not only deriving pleasure from the sport but the healthful exercise is bringing beneficial results. Chaf in sweater, toboggan cap and woollen leggings the cold has no terrors for him and he is the pet among the throng who are out in ledge's field to indulge in the sport. ATLANTIC HEIGHTS

The officers for the Sunday School at Atlantic Heights were elected by the school last Sunday as follows: Superintendent, Mr. Ashley Congdon, Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Richard Brannan.

Librarian, Miss Mildred Hammond. The following teachers were also nominated and approved:

Primary Dept., Miss Helen Colbath and Hazel Babel.

Mrs. DeWitt was given charge of the younger girls and Mrs. John Wiseman took the older girls. Mrs. E. E. Colbath is the teacher of the Young Ladies' Class. Mrs. J. H. Babel has the smaller boys and Mr. G. E. Moody the older boys. Miss M. E. Price will take charge of the Women's Bible Class and Rev. W. S. Woodhull teaches the Men's Class. Three reserve teachers, Mrs. Weston, Mrs. Grogins and Mrs. Moody, were elected to take classes as the attendance increases.

A great deal of interest is being manifested in the school. The attendance last Sunday in spite of the cold and snow reached eighty, fifty per cent more than on any previous Sunday. The church services at 10:30 and 7:30 are also well attended and much interest is shown.

There is much evidence that the people of the Heights will be glad to hear definitely that a church may really be erected there before long.

Wesley B. Grogins has moved from Purpose Way to Kittery.

Desire Baker is visiting in Newburyport, Mass.

Mrs. Bernard Duke of Saratoga Way is visiting in Amesbury, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Plunkham, who have resided on Purpose Lane, have moved to Davenport, Ia.

Otto J. Weldger who has been a resident of Raleigh Way, has gone to Rosindale, Mass., to reside.

Harsh Tuto, formerly employed at the Atlantic Corporation, has taken up his residence in Brookline, Mass.

Mrs. Isabel Day of Kittery has taken up her residence on Raleigh Way. B. H. Snow has moved from the Heights.

Engineer Cohn of the U. S. S. Babcock built at the Atlantic shipyard is here for a few days. He reports the Babcock a fine ship and her trip from Baltimore to England and return was without mishap and she was as tight as a drum.

The Norumbega has her deck trial today and goes to sea on Thursday.

Mrs. Harry C. Raynes, wife of the general manager, has returned from the hospital where she underwent a slight operation.

DRYDEN AND WINROW TONIGHT

Bill Dryden will be the wrestling attraction at Freeman's hall this evening when he is matched to wrestle Jack Winrow of North Adams. He is a new man around this section of the country, but he is well known in Western Massachusetts and New York state.

Charlie Metro who was here Sunday has a good word for Winrow who he has seen in action. He says that he is a strong and well trained wrestler who has been winning the majority of his matches and he predicted that he would give Dryden a hard match.

McTIGUE-TREMBLAY BOUT DOESN'T COUNT

Boston, Mass., Jan. 26—Mike McTigue of New York and Ed Tremblay of Canada, put up such a disappointing bout at the Commonwealth A. A. last night that Referee Phil Donahue walked out of the ring in the eighth round and called the bout no contest.

It was one of the poorest boxing exhibitions in this city in a long time. Tremblay, who had never been seen in action before here, came to Boston with a great reputation. He did not show to advantage last night, while McTigue displayed little of his former cleverness.

CLEVELAND GETS BIG TRAP SHOOT

Cleveland, Jan. 26—The Grand American handicap tournament of the American Trapshooting Association will be held in Cleveland Aug. 23-28. THE FAMOUS CLEF CLUB TO SING HERE ANOTHER WRESTLER AFTER THE COIN

The most famous organization of professional Negro musicians in the world today is the Clef Club Inc., of New York. Every man of the Clef Club is a finished artist with an approved reputation. When you hear these masters interpret their own music, it is possible that you may first begin to appreciate Dvorak's declaration that the Negro has given to the world the only distinctively American music. In hearing the Fish Jubilee singers, the Hampton and Tuskegee quartets, you think of the possibilities of Negro music. After listening to a Clef Club concert, when you awake from your enchantment, your soul is possessed with a realization of the fact that you have experienced an expression of this music in its highest excellence. The Clef Club was organized by the late Gen. James Reese Europe, who is accredited with being the conductor of the most famous regimental band of all the allied commands in France. In its membership the Club boasts of such noted composers as Harry Burleigh, the author of "Deep River," James Weldon Johnson, the play writer, J. Rosamond Johnson, director of the famous Minnie School Settlement, Nathaniel Dett, director of music at Hampton Institute, and more than 200 others of the most celebrated producers and players before the American public. Fifty of the most gifted of Clef Club artists will appear in public concert at Portsmouth Theatre Thursday February 5th, 1920. The orchestra will be under the direction of Will Tyers, who it is said can make a trombone talk, old and new Negro spirituals sung by a large chorus, is under the leadership of William Eldkins. The Clef Club will bring the last word in concert perfection.

NIGHTINGALE PREPARING FOR B. A. A. EVENTS

Gordon Nightingale, the New Hampshire college flyer, is letting nothing stand in his way of his chance to win the Hunter mile prize in the coming B. A. A. events. For that reason Gordon is entered in but that one event. Athletic Director Cowell will have one of the most formidable arrays of runners ever sent out by a Granite State college to this big indoor meet. In the relay race will be Folker, Chris O'Leary, Don Melville, Louis Litchfield and Charley McKenney. O'Leary, Baker and Harry Payne will be entered in the 1000-yard event. O'Leary will be the sole entry in the special three mile event, while Chris O'Leary, Baker, Payne and Melville

ABOUT RHEUMATISM

What Thousands Have Found Gives Relief From This Painful Trouble. Rheumatism is a constitutional disease, manifesting itself in local aches and pains, inflamed joints and stiff muscles. It cannot be cured by local or external applications. It must have constitutional treatment. Take a course of the great blood-purifying and tonic medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, which corrects the acid condition of the blood on which rheumatism depends, and gives permanent relief. This medicine combines, with excellent alteratives and tonics, what is generally conceded to be the most effective agent in the treatment of this disease. If a cathartic or laxative is needed take Hood's Pills. Purely vegetable.

Everyone in the wrestling game seems to be a "champion" and John Carlson is no exception to the rule. John, who signs himself "Middleweight Champion of Ohio," writes the Sporting Editor of The Herald as follows:

Boston, Jan. 26, 1920.
Sporting Editor Portsmouth Herald:
Dear Sir—
Am back east again. I have been after a match with Farmer Bill Dryden for over two years now but I have never succeeded in getting a match with him. Last winter while I was in Boston I challenged him several times but he never answered me. I think he is afraid to meet me. I will wrestle him any time although he outweighs me about 17 pounds. Trusting you will kindly publish this challenge on the sporting page in your paper, I remain yours for fair play,

NAVY YARD TEAM WILL HAVE A HARD GAME

The Portsmouth Navy Yard basketball team are looking for their greatest battle of the season on Wednesday evening, when they meet the Dover Legion team at Freeman's hall. The Dover team has a great record winning the greater number of their games, totaling to the Springfield and two games to Rochester.

The Manager of the Dover team has agreed with the Navy Yard manager to bring down his strongest team, for there are two teams one made up entirely of Legion members and the other a professional team which plays the bigger teams.

The Navy Yard will not change or add to their regular team for this game. They are depending upon Waite and the two Timmons along with Roberts and Weaver to put up a strong battle against the Dover outfit. On paper it looks as though Dover had much the stronger team with the added advantage of having played together for some months while the Navy Yard team has only played five games, four of which they have won. It should be a fast and very interesting game.

HAD TO BORROW WRECKING TRAIN

Maine Central Send Crew to Kennebunk on Monday.

Monday was one busy day for the Kennebunk and Maine wrecking crew of this city. While the men were clearing a wreck at Salem, the third call came in during the afternoon for trouble at Kennebunk where a baggage car of train 156 became derailed. The call had to be cancelled and the Boston and Maine were obliged to call for the services of a wrecker from the Maine Central Railroad which was sent out from Portland.
